

CAREER & OFFICER SURVIVAL FOR DISPATCHERS™

Dayton, OH
Tuesday, May 22, 2018
8am-4pm (EST)

ONLY $150

Proudly Hosted By:
Centerville Police Department

Training Site Address:
155 West Spring Valley Road
Dayton, OH 45458

This Unprecedented Training Will:

- Discuss the unique stressors & rewards that dispatchers experience
- Help dispatchers understand officer safety and survival tactics
- Give dispatch personnel tools they need to develop leadership skills and a true sense of mission
- Show all personnel how to bring the “Not Today!” mindset into the communications center!
- Discuss a dispatcher’s role in critical incidents; before, during & after
- Teach how to effectively communicate with each other...really
- Bring “Warrior Ethos” to the dispatch function
- Help dispatchers to THRIVE, not just “survive” in the organization
- And SO MUCH MORE!

Real World Training for the “Forgotten First Responders”

Public safety dispatchers are trying to do the same job as those they dispatch from two very different locations and perspectives. They often have separate rules, dissimilar shifts, and neither entity truly understands the other. Taught by veteran police officer and dispatch trainer Betsy Brantner Smith, this interactive, multi-media training course will give dispatchers, supervisors, and managers the insight they need to bridge the gap between line personnel and the dispatchers and call-takers that support them.

This one-day workshop will help you see, hear and feel what is happening on both sides of the microphone and recognize that the actions, instincts, and expertise of a good dispatcher can play a vital role in police officer safety and survival. Dispatchers, cops and managers will learn how to bring both sides together to work as a team.

REGISTER NOW!

ONLINE: www.regonline.com/DisOH2018
EMAIL for Questions: kodonnell@pg-ti.com
PHONE for Group Discounts: (847) 875-3620

Sponsored By:

DAVE SMITH & ASSOCIATES
“WINNING MIND SEMINARS”

WWW.JDBUCKSAVAGE.COM

Survival is just the beginning; we train to WIN!